

★ Flown From Sumatra ★

Since the Japanese capitulation, Singapore has become the gathering place of former internees and prisoners of war awaiting transport to their homelands. Pictures show internees who were brought from Sumatra by plane.

ABOVE: Mrs. L. G. Ward, of London, is nursing three-years-old Judith Sinnatt, whose mother and brother died in Sumatra, where her father, who was serving with the RAF, was also held a prisoner of war by the Japanese.

BELOW: Mrs. Van Gyzel and her three children, aged 5, 7 and 3 years. The three-year-old child in her arms is suffering from malnutrition.